

A second polar-angle group changes the analyzing-power dependence and restores one polarization mode after global-normalization profiling.