

Planned proton-singles one-station tensor response

One planned two-angle proton-singles station has one exact structural tensor null mode; singular values are normalized to the leading response mode.